HOW RISKY IS IT?

The value of the fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund’s returns change over time. This is called “volatility.”

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk Rating
MD Financial Management Inc. has rated the volatility of this fund as low to medium.

This rating is based on how much the fund’s returns have changed from year to year. It doesn’t tell you how volatile the fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

No Guarantees
Like most mutual funds, this fund does not have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

HOW HAS THE FUND PERFORMED?

This section tells you how Series F2 units of the fund have performed since inception. Returns are after expenses have been deducted. These expenses reduce the fund’s returns.

Year-by-Year Returns
This chart shows how Series F2 units of the Fund performed in the past calendar year. The range of returns and change from year to year can help you assess how risky the Fund has been in the past. It does not tell you how the Fund will perform in the future.

Best and Worst 3-Month Returns
This table shows the best and worst returns for Series F2 units of the Fund in a 3-month period over the past 2.5 years to June 30, 2021. The best and worst 3-month returns could be higher or lower in the future. Consider how much of a loss you could afford to take in a short period of time.

Average Return
As at June 30, 2021, a person who invested $1,000 in Series F2 units of the Fund at its inception would now have $1,373. This works out to an annual compound return of 12.8%.

A WORD ABOUT TAX

In general, you’ll have to pay income tax on any money you earn on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws where you live, the type of earnings (i.e., income or capital gains) and whether or not you hold the fund in a registered plan, such as a registered retirement savings plan or a tax-free savings account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, taxable fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.
HOW MUCH DOES IT COST?

The following explains the fees and expenses you pay in respect of your Series F2 units of the fund through your MD ExO Direct investment.

Fees and Expenses
You do not pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the fund’s returns.

Management Fees
The fund pays a management fee up to 0.13% of the fund’s net asset value to the fund manager.

The management fee covers the cost of managing the business of the fund, including processing orders for subscriptions and redemptions of units of the fund, setting the investment objectives and strategies, managing the investment portfolio of the fund, including investment analysis and recommendations, making investment decisions and effecting the purchase and sale of the investment portfolio of the fund, arranging for custodial services, and ensuring the fund is operating in compliance with all applicable registration and regulatory requirements. The management fee also covers the cost of audit fees, custodial fees, expenses related to investment fund accounting and fund valuation and unitholder servicing costs such as unitholder reporting and record-keeping expenses.

The fund invests in other investment funds. These underlying investment funds may pay a management fee; however, the fund will not pay a management fee that, to a reasonable person, would duplicate a fee payable to the underlying fund(s) for the same services.

The proportional management expense ratio (MER) for the underlying funds in which the fund invests is included in the fund’s MER calculation.

Taxes
The fund is responsible for taxes of all kind to which the fund might be subject to including HST.

Trading Expenses
The fund pays for certain operating expenses directly, such as brokerage fees on the buying and selling of securities within the fund, transaction costs and interest and borrowing costs incurred by the fund from time to time.

Other Fees
You may have to pay other fees when you buy, hold, sell or switch units of the fund.
